NEW LABEL

NEW COLLECTION

This is the beginning of a story of two young women who gave up their day jobs to create a fashion label. Only you can decide how the story ends.....

Huxton is the creation of Rebecca and Joanna and was established in late 2011. Huxton's debut collection comprises a mix of influences, predominantly David Hockney's portrayal of glamorous 1970s poolside parties.

We envisage our pieces to be the centre of attention whether at a sunshine filled uber stylish Miami party or a street party in London.

If the Huxton woman is out and about she will stand out.

Huxton's debut collection is all limited edition and is available for sale online www.huxton.co.uk

Recommended retail prices range from £25 to £100
